INTRODUCTION

The South Australian Medical Education and Training (SA MET) Unit is pleased to announce the South Australian Prevocational Medical Education Excellence Awards 2024.

In 2023, SA MET hosted the inaugural South Australian Prevocational Medical Education Excellence Awards to recognise and celebrate the outstanding dedication to high quality medical education and training across our Local Health Networks (LHNs). The calibre of the nominees was such that one category resulted in joint-winners.

Our prestigious inaugural event attracted over 100 attendees including trainee medical officers, senior clinical and non-clinical educators and trainers from all Local Health Networks and members of major South Australian universities. In attendance were also esteemed guests including, the South Australian Minister for Health, The Honourable Chris Picton, Presiding Member, SA MET Health Advisory Council, Professor Kevin Forsyth and the Chair, SA MET Education Committee, Professor Josephine Thomas among many others.

SOUTH AUSTRALIAN PREVOCATIONAL MEDICAL EDUCATION EXCELLENCE AWARDS 2024

In 2024, we are thrilled to again celebrate the many innovative and excellent quality prevocational medical education teams and individuals across SA Health. Excitingly, this year we have expanded the award categories and will also showcase the South Australian winners of the Confederation of Postgraduate Medical Education Councils (CPMEC) Awards.

Since 2010, the CPMEC Award has been presented annually to junior doctors and clinical educators across Australia and New Zealand recognising those who have made a major contribution to improving prevocational medical education and training.

Following the incredible success of last year's inaugural awards ceremony dinner, we know 2024 will surpass in terms of nominees, attendance and celebrated winners. Our goal is to make each year better than the last. We would greatly benefit from your support, with a generous contribution helping us to successfully raise the profile of medical education in the prevocational realm.

WHY PARTNER WITH US?

The South Australian Prevocational Medical Education Excellence Awards provides a unique opportunity to acknowledge and celebrate the outstanding, state-wide achievements in the prevocational medical education and training realm.

This prestigious annual awards event is now in its second year and going from strength to strength, recognising the contributions to education and training for our prevocational doctors. This year, we have expanded our categories and will also incorporate the presentation of the South Australian winners of the Confederation of Postgraduate Medical Education Councils (CPMEC) Awards – Clinical Educator of the Year Award 2024, and Junior Doctor of the Year Award 2024.

As a sponsor, you will be recognised for your support through being provided opportunities to:

- > promote your product or service related to education, training, or career development
- > increase awareness of your organisation's brand and reputation in the community

- > network, strengthen and build relationships with health industry colleagues and the higher education community
- > demonstrate your involvement and support of the prevocational education and training community
- > acknowledge and celebrate prevocational medical education and training at the awards dinner held in September 2024, attended by industry leaders, university deans and members of parliament.

Our sponsorship opportunities are designed to be value for money and your generous contribution will ensure the continued success in celebrating and recognising the ongoing achievements of the hardworking educators and trainers of prevocational medical officers in SA Health.

All sponsors will be offered complimentary tickets to the SA Prevocational Medical Education Excellence Awards dinner to further provide opportunities to increase your profile within the health sector and advance your network capability.
